

Roof Update

Last month I had a meeting with our architects Marcus Wheeler and Emilie Renaud. Plans have been drawn up and they are now consulting local roofers and contractors to bid on the project.

In summary, the main roof over the nave of the Pro-Cathedral will be replaced along with the roofs over the altar area, sacristy and walkway to the rectory.

The steeple roof will remain and is in good condition.

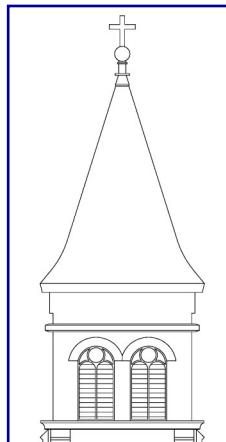

Inside the bell tower is a flat roof that needs to be replaced too. There are some damaged rafters on either side of the tower that need to be replaced along with the bell tower louvers.

New vented soffits will be installed along with new access ladders in the bell tower.

When construction will commence is yet to be determined but I'll keep you updated as much as possible.

Architectural drawings are available for everyone to see in the hall.
